I notice...

This right matters because...

I am listening.

Here is what adults can change.

Teach It From the Hub

Exact screen-to-page map, timing, and copy counts for the Rights Repair lesson.

COPY BEFORE CLASS

Page 1: 1 per group (scissors optional). Page 2: 1 per student. Pages 3-4: keep 1 teacher copy. Optional PRIVACY DILEMMA: screen-only; no worksheet.

1 OPEN: Rights in our room -> Rights Repair lesson

HUB SCREEN	TIME	TEACHER MOVE	STUDENT PAPER
SPOT	7 min	Project the scene. Ask students to find three clues.	None - discuss from the screen.
MATCH	12 min	Model one pair. Students match all six pairs.	Page 1 - one per group.
SOLVE	10 min	Choose one fictional case. Ask what adults should check or change.	Page 2 - choose a case at the top.
COMIC	20 min	Model the four frames. End with an adult or system change.	Page 2 - complete all four frames.
SHARE	6 min	Share one comic clue; choose one practical class action.	No new paper.
PRIVACY	10-15	Optional AI-camera dilemma after the core lesson.	Screen-only; no worksheet.

60-SECOND MODEL

COLLECT + NOTICE

Collect Page 2 from each student. Look for: a named right, an adult or school action, and a final frame showing the right better supported.

Answer Key + Teaching Notes

Keep rights universal, scenarios fictional, and responsibility with adults and systems.

MATCHING KEY

1-C LEARN / MAKE LEARNING REACHABLE 2-E SAFETY / PROTECT 3-A VOICE / LISTEN 4-F IDENTITY / RESPECT IDENTITY 5-B PLAY / PROTECT TIME 6-D CARE / CONNECT SUPPORT

FICTIONAL CASE CLUES

NO CAPTIONS: learning and access; adults add captions or another way to access the content.

PLAYGROUND RULE: play, safety, and voice may overlap; adults ask who is affected and revise the rule.

FULL NAME IGNORED: identity and belonging; adults learn and use the full name correctly.

TEACHER LANGUAGE

Rights belong to every child. They are not rewards for good behaviour.

More than one right may fit a case. Ask students to explain with evidence.

Name the adult or system responsibility - not only what a child should do.

CARE + PRIVATE SUPPORT

Do not ask students to disclose rights violations or family experiences. Keep every case fictional. Remind students how they can reach a trusted adult privately. If a student raises a real concern, follow school and district procedures.
