Indigenous voices

First Nations, Métis and Inuit rights and teachings

Read stories by Indigenous authors. Notice whose voices, experiences and teachings are shared.

What can we learn from these voices?

Our shared Earth

Access to nature, sustainability and our shared future

Explore our relationships with the natural world, access to green spaces and responsibility for a sustainable future.

How can we care for our shared world?

Gender, identity and families

LGBTQ2S+ voices, belonging and equal rights

Explore sexual orientation, gender identity and diverse families. Everyone deserves respect and equal rights.

How does this story help us understand one another?

Languages, cultures and communities

Diversity in Canada and around the world

Explore languages, traditions and everyday community life. Canada includes many cultures and ways of belonging.

What does this story help us understand about a community?

Racism, discrimination and change

Historical inequities, resistance and equal rights

Learn how racism and discrimination affect people, how unfair systems develop, and how people work for change.

What can we learn about challenging unfairness?

Accessibility, inclusion and equality

Disability, different needs and full participation

Consider visible and non-visible disabilities, barriers people face, and changes that support equal participation.

What barriers could we remove?